Title: HERBERT GEORGE POWLESS

Character: FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Synopsis: Investigation was predicated upon receipt of information from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) which indicated that HERBERT GEORGE POWLESS had been involved in numerous violations of the Fraud Against the Government (FAG) statute, specifically findings indicating that several individuals were fraudulently placed on the Youth and Young Adult Social Services Program, which is federally funded and under the control of the Community Relations-Social Development Commission. POWLESS had misused federal funds which were to be given to the Milwaukee American Indian Movement (AIM) Survival School. ANTHONY MAGGIORE, Associate Director of the Community Relations-Social Development Commission, explained how federal funds flowed through his organization to the various AIM projects. Records of the Community Relations-Social Development Commission were reviewed and they indicated that 23 individuals had received payroll checks for work reportedly done under the Youth and Young Adult Social Services Program. Records of the American City Bank and Trust Company are in the process of being subpoenaed.

DETAILS:

This investigation was predicated upon receipt of information from ROBERT SLONAGER, Acting Chief of Operations, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. This information is as follows:

MI 46-1173

By communication dated September 17, 1973 the Washington Field Office furnished the following information:

On September 12, 1973, Mr. ROBERT SLONAGER, Acting Chief of Operations, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW), advised that a limited investigation was conducted by HEW concerning the use of Federal funds by the subject as the Director of the Indian Alcohol and Drug Abuse Outreach Program.

[redacted] Former Chief of Investigations, HEW, advised on September 12, 1973, that this program was funded by HEW through the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism for the amount requested under the fund application number [redacted]. [redacted] further advised that the program is currently in its second year and the limited investigation conducted by HEW did not indicate any irregularities with this program.

b7C
b7E

Mr. ROBERT SLONAGER advised on September 12, 1973, that a more extensive investigation was conducted by the Inspectors and Auditors of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) prior to the transfer of OEO functions to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

On September 12, 1973, [redacted] Office of Inspections, OEO, 1200 19th Street, NW, Washington, D.C., advised that OEO was the original funding source to a community action agency in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, called the Community Relations-Social Development Commission (CR-SDC) which was responsible for channeling Federal Funds to the Milwaukee Indian Movement which was headed by the subject. [redacted] advised that the Inspection Team discovered numerous discrepancies in the handling of these funds by the subject and his associates, all of which are set out in the enclosed OEO report.

b7C

[redacted] advised he will be completely available to assist the Federal Bureau of Investigation in any way possible in the investigation of this matter.

MI 46-1173

On October 23, 1973, the three original reports of investigation conducted by the OEO, Inspection Division, concerning the American Indian Movement (AIM) were returned to [ ] Chief, Security and Investigations, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D.C. [ ] advised that these reports were considered a closed matter at the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare because OEO was not a part of the HEW at the time the investigations were conducted.

b6
b7C

[ ] placed no restrictions upon the Federal Bureau of Investigation's reproduction of these reports for use in their investigation or the disclosure of the information in these reports to the United States Attorney.

The reports of the OEO were reviewed by Special Agent [ ] and these reports set forth findings which indicated that [ ]

b6
b7C

[ ] were fraudulently placed on the Youth and Young Adult Social Services Program payroll, as these individuals never worked for the CR-SDC nor did they ever receive the proceeds of their payroll checks. [ ]

[ ] also were on the payroll, but according to witnesses were never working for CR-SDC. Their reports also set forth numerous specific instances in which POWLESS misused funds which were to be used by the Milwaukee AIM Survival School.

On October 11, 1973, Assistant United States Attorney [ ] Eastern District of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was advised of the facts presented in the above OEO reports. He advised that if OEO was not going to pursue this matter, then the facts reported in the reports should be verified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the results would be presented to the Federal Grand Jury in the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Date of transcription 11/19/73

ANTHONY MAGGIORE, Assistant Director, Community Relations-Social Development Commission (CR-SDC), was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agents and the purpose of the interview. MAGGIORE requested the presence of his Administrative Assistant, [REDACTED]. He then provided the following information:

b6
b7C

MAGGIORE advised that CR-SDC is an organization set up specifically to channel Federal, State, and Local moneys to all of the various community and poverty programs. He also advised that because of the recent investigation by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), he was aware of the programs that were currently being investigated.

MAGGIORE advised that there were three specific programs that HERBERT GEORGE POWLESS was directly or indirectly in control of. One program, which was a grant by OEO to the Upper Midwest American Indian Center (UMAIC) in Minneapolis, was not in any way related to CR-SDC and MAGGIORE could only provide sketchy, second hand information concerning this grant and the subsequent expenditures. A second program, which he was familiar with, was known as the Office of Education-National Institution of Mental Health Alcohol Program, as it was funded by OEO until September of 1972 at which time it was funded by the National Institute of Mental Health. This program is known locally as the American Indian Council on Alcoholism (AICA) or the Alcohol Program.

MAGGIORE advised that this program was tightly controlled by CR-SDC and he did not think that any fraud was involved in this program. He did advise, however, that if there were problems with this program, they would be in one of the following three areas:

OUT OF TOWN TRAVEL

In order for moneys to be distributed as travel expenses, the individuals generally HERBERT GEORGE POWLESS, had to submit an authorization for any advance of funds prior to the travel and have this approved by CR-SDC. After the traveling, he then had to submit detailed explanations of his expenditures which were also approved by CR-SDC.

TELEPHONE CALLS

Under the above program, a fixed dollar amount of telephone calls could be made monthly. Initially, this figure was [ ] per month, but has since dropped to [ ] per month. MAGGIORE advised that this limitation is often exceeded, but if the calls were being made for legitimate reasons dealing with the Alcohol Program, no fraud would exist and it would be strictly a budgetary problem.

PAYROLL

MAGGIORE advised that there were between eight to ten people on the payroll for this program. Because of the type of individuals that the program dealt with, there was an extremely high rate of turnover. MAGGIORE felt that with the controls that CR-SDC had on the payroll, most fraud in this area would have been eliminated.

The third program in which POWLESS was directly involved, was the Youth and Young Adult Social Services Program, more commonly known as the Title IV-A Program because it was authorized under Title IV-A of the Social Security Act. This program was funded as follows:

For every [ ] in local contributions to the program, the State of Wisconsin Health and Social Services Department would grant [ ] and the Federal Government, through the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, would grant [ ] therefore, every penny spent in this program was made up of 75 percent Federal funds. This program was instituted during the summer of 1972 and remained in effect through the end of the calendar year. MAGGIORE advised that approximately 2,500 local youth received benefits from this program. Students were paid at the rate of [ ] per hour and worked a maximum of thirty hours per week under the program.

CR-SDC was the controlling interest for this program and they in effect, authorized the placement of youth in various programs which they controlled. One of these was the AICA. MAGGIORE advised that youths who applied for a job with POWLESS were required to make a formal application. This application was then submitted to CR-SDC and was approved by them. POWLESS was then given notification that it was alright to hire these youths. MAGGIORE explained that this Title IV-A Program was originally handled by the American Indian Movement (AIM) but in December of 1972, the name was officially changed to AICA.

[ ] MAGGIORE advised that [ ] for CR-SDC, would be most familiar with the OEO investigation and the records required by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He advised; therefore, that either [ ] should be contacted regarding any further information.

Title: HERBERT GEORGE POWLESS

Character: FRAUD AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Synopsis: OEO reports show the Upper Midwest American Indian Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, between April 28, and November, 1972, loaned [REDACTED] respectively, to the Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Milwaukee Chapters of the American Indian Movement (AIM), for operation by each of an Indian Survival School. OEO found no misuse of funds by AIM, Minneapolis, but despite repeated requests, was unable to obtain a record of expenditures from AIM, St. Paul. OEO concluded the majority of the money provided AIM, St. Paul, had been spent on staff salaries. AUSA, Minneapolis, declines prosecution.

DETAILS

Investigation of this matter within the Minneapolis Division was instituted following receipt of information from the Milwaukee Office which indicated subject POWLESS, a former director of the American Indian Movement (AIM), Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was under investigation for alleged Fraud Against Government violations. The Milwaukee Division furnished copies of three reports by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), which set forth information concerning their inquiries with respect to funds to the Upper Midwest American Indian Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, furnished to AIM Chapters at Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Milwaukee, for operation of an Indian Survival School in their respective cities.

MP 46-3357

LRV:rjt

Review of reports by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), dated November 15, 1972, November 30, 1972, and May 4, 1973, concerning certain inquiries about the American Indian Movement (AIM), the Upper Midwest American Indian Center (UMAIC), and the Community Relations - Social Development Commission (CR-SDC), showed the following with respect to funds UMAIC furnished the AIM chapters at Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee for the operation of Indian schools in their respective cities:

UMAIC loaned a total of [redacted] to the three AIM Chapters from a bank account which held monies from private sources and from OEO grant(s) for operation of a Model Urban Indian Center (MUIC) as authorized by the Economic Opportunity Act. It appears likely the account referred to is account [redacted] at the First Plymouth National Bank, Minneapolis, Minnesota. [redacted] President of that bank, reportedly related after analyzing this account November 20, 1972, that checks for both UMAIC and the three school programs were drawn on it. UMAIC was to recover the loaned amounts from a [redacted] OEO grant to UMAIC for funnelling to the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee AIM Chapters for operation of the three survival schools.

b7C

Of the [redacted] "loaned" between April 28, 1972 - November, 1972, the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee AIM chapters received the following amounts respectively:

[redacted] UMAIC's only supporting documentation for the loans are cancelled checks.

b7E

With respect to the [redacted] loaned to Minneapolis AIM, the OEO Inspection and Audit team found no evidence of misuse of funds. OEO examined the Minneapolis AIM School checking account [redacted] at First Plymouth National Bank, Minneapolis, and contacted UMAIC and the Minneapolis AIM School personnel and concluded the money provided by UMAIC approximated payroll estimates for the Minneapolis Survival School.

With respect to the [ ] loaned to St. Paul AIM for operation of the Red School House, OEO reported that despite repeated requests, no records of expenditures were provided. Reportedly, on March 13, 1973, OEO showed [ ] St. Paul AIM, a report reflecting the sum of [ ] was loaned by UMAIC to the Red School House. [ ] informed the amount appeared correct. On November 22, 1972, and March 13, 1973, he advised OEO he did not have any records available for inspection, but was in the process of attempting to compile a financial statement which would indicate how the funds were spent. OEO reported concluding that the majority of the money received by the St. Paul school had been spent on salaries for the staff of the school.

b7C
b7E

OEO accounting identifies October and November, 1972, net payrolls as [ ] respectively, and refers to six bills for supplies, services and equipment paid to vendors in the total amount of [ ] This likely refers to disbursements made through UMAIC, which leaves approximately [ ] earlier provided to AIM, St. Paul, by UMAIC which is unaccounted for.

b7E

[ ] the St. Paul school, advised OEO that all his attempts to properly account for funds received by [ ] have been virtually impossible, mainly because of the lack of basic bookkeeping techniques and the maintenance of strong fiscal discipline on the part of [ ] According to [ ] AIM St. Paul had an account at the First Plymouth Bank of St. Paul which contained OEO funds and other funds which were maintained before the receipt of OEO funds. [ ] reported it would be exceedingly difficult to attempt to trace the disbursement of any OEO funds inasmuch as they have been co-mingled with funds from other sources.

b7C

With respect to the [ ] loaned to Milwaukee AIM, HERBERT POWLESS [ ] and associates, failed to send any funds on to the school, but spent much of it instead for non-program related costs. By letter August 22, 1972, POWLESS furnished a statement showing alleged expenditures of the [ ] loaned to Milwaukee AIM by UMAIC which OEO considers a false statement as it listed purposes for expenditures which were deliberately false and misleading.

period. A tense situation surrounds this trial. Defense attorneys have unjustly charged FBI harassment at the trial and while the trial is in progress, will likely seize on any information to make additional such charges. Minneapolis believes UMAIC would be cooperative in the furnishing of information but likely could not do so without AIM becoming aware. In view of this Minneapolis has not contacted UMAIC concerning an investigation of AIM as requested in referenced report.

An [redacted] which was reflected as being forwarded on September 20, 1972, reflected that the UMAIC was an applicant for a grant of [redacted]. This grant would consist of [redacted] in OEO Federal funds and no dollars of non-Federal funds. This grant was proposed for the use of developing Indian controlled schools in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. [redacted] was specifically allotted for St. Paul, [redacted] for Minneapolis and [redacted] for Milwaukee. This grant was a proposal to offer an alternate to the school system. Funds would be used to hire a qualified Indian staff and develop a specified curriculum emphasizing Indian culture, history, language and arts and crafts. Funds were also to be used to reduce the dropout rate of Indian children from school. The grant was also to be used to prepare students to be able to handle a job. The Milwaukee Center was to operate a Neighborhood Community Service Center in addition to the above proposals and this Neighborhood Community Service Center would provide services in the area of employment placement, housing referral, social services referral, vocational rehabilitation, and alcoholism rehabilitation.

A review of the "Milwaukee Sentinel" newspaper, dated March 5, 1975, revealed an article which indicated that on March 1, 1975, HERBERT POWLESS and six other individuals were arrested for possession of illegal firearms and explosive substances by the South Dakota Highway Patrol in the area of Pine Ridge, South Dakota. These individuals were traveling in a van, which was later determined to be a 1975 Dodge Sportsman Maxi van, owned by the American Indian Council on Alcoholism (AICA) at Milwaukee.

[redacted] advised that ANTHONY MAGGIORE, Director of the Social Development Commission (SDC), Milwaukee, approved the purchase of a 1975 Dodge Sportsman Max Van, vehicle identification number [redacted] to be used by the American Council on Alcoholism (AICA) in the performance of their duties.

[redacted] further advised that because of the fact that HERBERT POWLESS, the Director of the AICA, [redacted]

[redacted] it will not be possible for the AICA to continue to discharge its duties in treatment of Indian alcoholics effectively.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that if POWLESS remains in jail, that the possibility exists that the SDC funding for the Milwaukee Office of the AICA will have to be stopped until such time that new management can be obtained.

[redacted] explained to stop the funding of AICA, the local board of commissioners governing the SDC would have to initiate an investigation into the operation of the AICA. [redacted] stated for such an investigation to be initiated, there would have to be some evidence that the Milwaukee Office of the AICA is not properly discharging its duties.

b7C

[redacted] stated that prior to the recent arrest of POWLESS, the Milwaukee unit of the AICA had functioned well and was meeting set objectives of his office; however, with POWLESS in jail, he doubted if the unit could continue to function effectively.

[redacted] stated that the use of the 1975 Dodge Maxi Van purchased by the SDC for use by the Milwaukee unit

Character: FRAUD AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Synopsis:

[redacted]
[redacted] refused
to be interviewed. [redacted] advised payroll checks payable in her name contain false endorsements. AUSA, EDW, after reviewing case advised he was declining prosecution in all aspects of the case including misapplication of Federal funds and false statements. AUSA advised the Government based upon the evidence developed would be unable to prove willful intent on the part of the subject as required by the statute in both aspects of the case, and that the amount of monies involved on the false endorsements was not that substantial to warrant Federal prosecution.

[ ] SA FBI Milw, Wisc"

On September 9, 1975, Assistant United States Attorney [ ] advised that he was continuing to review this matter to determine whether or not it warranted Federal prosecution. He stated he would recontact the case Agent at a later date concerning his final prosecutive opinion.

b6
b7c

On October 31, 1975, AUSA [ ] advised that he was declining prosecution in this case on all possible violations. He advised his review of the case determined there were two separate matters each containing potential criminal violations where subject was probably involved. He advised that the first situation involved the [ ] received by POWLESS from the Upper Midwest American Indian Center in Minneapolis, Minnesota, which was to be used for the purpose of developing a Community School Program and counseling service in Milwaukee. He noted these funds were from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). He explained this aspect of the case would conceivably be a violation of Title 42, Section 2703, United States Code, and make it a criminal violation for willful misapplication of Federal funds. He stated in applying the evidence developed from investigation to the statute it was necessary to review the guidelines OEO provided in the use and distribution of the funds. He stated that the problem is that there are no specific written guidelines and that only a couple of letters were sent by OEO to the funding agency and that the language as to the use of the monies is very broad and general. He advised that in view of the fact such general language and guidelines were provided it would be impossible to prove that there was willful and intentional misapplication of the funds on the part of POWLESS.

b6
b7c
b7E

AUSA [ ] stated in connection with the statement submitted by POWLESS on August 23, 1972, to the Upper Midwest American Indian Center the same problem developed in that the Government would have to prove that the statement contained a willful and intentional false statement on the part of POWLESS. He stated in reviewing the statement concerning how the monies were spent by POWLESS that most of the items could be construed to have been utilized for purposes of counseling.

b6
b7c

MI 46-1173

AUSA [ ] stated that in connection with the other aspect of the case involving the Summer Youth Program handled by the AIM office in 1972 that the total amount of money involved was not that substantial where an actual forgery exists. He stated that in reviewing the matter at would appear that POWLESS, himself, did not endorse the items, but had his immediate employees in the AIM office execute the endoresements and in view of the fact that the witnesses in this case are very apt to become hostile at a later date, he was declining prosecution.
